Yolanda Shepherd wins Miss Black EIU title

By LORI HIGGINS
Staff writer

A crowd of about 400 parents, students and faculty witnessed the crowning of Yolanda Shepherd as Miss Black EIU for 1989.

Shepherd, junior journalism/Afro American Studies major, along with four other contestants competed to replace Stephanie Davis, the 1988 Miss Black EIU, as queen.

Davis said her year as Miss Black EIU was exciting and wonderful, as well as invigorating. She said she has become closer to minorities on campus.

The other four contestants in the pageant were freshmen Gloria Jones, Debbie Gary, Latricia Bronson and Marlena Luckett.

Contestants were judged on creative expression, African garment, talent, evening gown and impromptu questioning.

Among several special awards given to the contestants was the title of Miss Pizzazz, which Shepherd won. Shepherd also won the most talented category.

Miss Congeniality was awarded to Marlena Luckett, who also won for creative expression.

Marlena Luckett, a speech communications major, was the first runner-up. The second runner-up in the pageant was Gloria Jones, a political science major.

This year's six judges were as follows: Toi Coldwell-Colbert, of Indiana State University; Major Alycia Evans, of Eastern's ROTC unit; John Coffey, of academic assistance; Sandra Wilson, a counselor from Taylor Hall and Alex Russell, of human resources.

The masters of ceremony at the pageant were Stephanie Burks, a senior political science major and Calvin Malone, a graduate student in guidance and counseling.

The pageant, sponsored by the Black Student Union, began with the Black National Anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing," which was sung by the audience accompanied by the Unity Gospel Choir.

The creative expression category was a chance for the contestants to portray their hopes, dreams and goals, said Burks.

During competition, Jones said she was an independent person. "If I fail, I have no one to blame but myself."

Gary said she was a tender-loving-care teddy bear who will take away your misery.

Shepherd said she was a mean old lion who goes out and gets what she wants.

The African garment category was a chance for the contestants to design, create and wear a garment which symbolizes their African heritage, Malone said.

Luckett sang the spiritual song "Say Amen" during the talent competition, which received a rousing hand of applause.

Shepherd played a selection on the flute, which won her the talented category. Jones performed a ballet dance to Denise Williams' song "Black Butterfly." Gary did a poetic rendition of Karyn White's song, "Superwoman." Bronson performed a dance to Michael Jackson's "Bad."

The evening was highlighted with entertainment. Marvin Sparks' band, Quintessence, performed throughout the pageant. Selections were also sung by the Unity Gospel Choir.

Amy Carr, editor in chief of the Daily Eastern News, presented the three winners of the Black History Month essay contest, which was sponsored by the News. Gregory Heggs, won first place. Second and third place went to Derrick Rogers and Dina Landbo, respectively. The winners were awarded prizes from local businesses that helped sponsor the contest.

The pageant was held as part of Parent Appreciation Month. Preceding the pageant was a parent appreciation dinner held in the Rathskellar of the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union.

ELU blood drive hopes to uphold reputation

TONY CAMPBELL
Staff writer

Eastern begins the spring Red Cross Blood Drive Monday with reputation of excessively high totals compared to other universities and colleges, said Alan Mas, manager of the Mid-Missouri Red Cross Blood Center. Hours for the blood drive are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and 11 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. The drive will be in the Union Ballroom.

Eastern usually gets about 1,500 pints per drive. However, Elias said Southern Illinois University usually gets about 2,500 pints per drive, but the enrollment at Southern is much higher. Southern holds the current national record for most pints given during a single university or college blood drive.

Southern's record was achieved in 1984 when 3,900 pints of blood were donated during the yearly blood drive. Like Eastern,

Southern now has a blood drive every semester.

Elias said in the past Eastern has donated more pints of blood than that of major universities like UCLA, whose enrollment quadruples Eastern's.

On the average, 1,000 pints of blood must be donated each day to meet the needs of patients in the region. The region, which covers Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois, must supply blood to 140 hospitals.

Vickie Rumohr, Red Cross blood service consultant, said it is important that the goal of 1,600 is met.

The plasma, red cells, platelets and other divisions are separated so individual patients can receive what is needed. The components may then be used to help other needy patients more readily, Rumohr said.

Eastern's Model United Nations wins four awards

CARL WALK
Staff writer

Eastern's Model United Nations organization returned to St. Louis Saturday after taking part in the annual midwest conference where they won four awards.

"We won more awards this year than we ever had in the past," said president Cam Simpson. "Two Eastern delegations combined brought home more awards than anyone else in the conference."

Three best delegation awards were taken by Eastern for representing Israel along with one best delegation award for the representation of Australia.

The first award was given to Eastern for delegates Jeff Himebaugh and Ken Wetstein from Israel in the Legal Committee. The Legal Committee discussed topics including the harboring and training of terrorism.

The second award for Israel went to Jim Conley and Harlan Aldort for representation in the Political Security Committee, which focused on occupied terriories.

The overall best delegation award, chosen by all participants to the MMUN, was given to Eastern for representing Israel and involved votes from all but two of the countries at the conference.

The final award was given to Eastern for the representation of Australia in the Economic and Social Committee (ECOSOC), where human rights and the death penalty were debated by Greg Stoner and Jacque Dean.

The format of the conference involves two days of simulated

United Nations committee meetings and caucuses after the meetings, which are used to meet with countries to present new strategies and new issues. This may sometimes run until 2 a.m., Simpson said.

The remaining two days are utilized for the meeting of the General Assembly where resolutions amended from the committee meetings are discussed.

This year brought 22 Eastern students to St. Louis — ten representing Israel, 11 for Australia and one International Press Delegate. Russell Stare, who helped in publishing the UN News and World Report, the official MMUN newspaper, along with seven journalists from various states. The newspaper appeared two to three times per day during the competition to inform the participants of actual and simulated events.

In addition to the awards won by Eastern, three students were invited to return to next years competition as staff members. These included Cam Simpson, Harlan Aldort and Russell Stare. Stare was co-sponsored by Eastern's journalism department

Bidders Caught Up in Lawsuits

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)— An engineering company negotiating to design part of the Metro-Link light rail system faces eight lawsuits in Pennsylvania for alleged negligence in the design of a rail system there.

Gibbs and Hill Inc. of New York is part of a consortium being sued by the transit system of Allegheny County for design errors on its $542 million rail system in Pittsburgh.

A spokesman for the transit system said despite the lawsuits, flaws were corrected and the project turned out well.

The Bi-State Development Agency currently is negotiating a contract with Gibbs and Hill to design the $287.7 million Metro-Link project.

Bi-State is overseeing the development of Metro-Link.

Khomeini to Develop Ties with Moscow

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini said Sunday that he wants to develop stronger ties with Moscow to help fight the "devilish" West. Iranian legislators reportedly agreed to consider breaking ties with Britain.

Khomeini's overtures to the Soviet Union, which he previously condemned for its atheist ideology, came during a 1 1/2-hour meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Edward Shevardnadze.

According to the Islamic Republic News Agency, Shevardnadze did not ask Khomeini to withdraw his order for Moslem zealots to assassinate British author Salman Rushdie because of his book "The Satanic Verses." Britain reportedly asked Shevardnadze to press Khomeini to give a reprieve to Rushdie.

In protest to Khomeini's execution order for Rushdie, Britain has removed their diplomats from the embassy in Tehran. Although no formal ties have been broken between Iran and Britain, Iran's Parliament has sponsored a bill to put relations with Britain to the vote.

The Tehran Times said that hostile relations with the West involving Rushdie would inevitably improve ties with Moscow.

FAA Inspects United Airlines 747s

CHICAGO (AP)— United Airlines announced on Sunday that it has begun a series of special maintenance checks on its aircraft following an accident near Hawaii in which nine passengers died after a hole ripped open an airborne Boeing 747.

Because the right forward cargo door was suspected in the incident, United Chairman Stephen M. Wolf said United checked all cargo doors on its fleet of 31 747s and all were found to be in proper working order.

In addition, a "detailed technical inspection encompassing all latches, seals, fittings and other parts of the door mechanisms" was implemented and its expected completion was on Sunday.

It also stated that an FAA-licensed mechanic will inspect each 747 cargo door upon arrival at a destination, in addition to regular pre-departure inspections, and such mechanics will oversee the closing of each 747 cargo door prior to departures.

Movie's credibility focus of lecture

By LEE NICKOSON
Staff writer

Questions surrounding the controversial movie "Mississippi Burning" will be the focus of a lecture Tuesday.

The lecture, which is part of Black History Month, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Union addition Oakland Room. A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

Paul E. Bushnell, associate professor of history at Illinois Wesleyan University, will address topics presented in the movie.

Bushnell said differences between the film and actual historical events will also be discussed. "It's good theater and bad history," Bushnell said.

"The FBI plays the traditional role of the hero when in reality it spent much of its time investigating Civil Rights leaders," he said.

The film also excludes several facts about the case, Bushnell said.

Johnetta Jones, director of Afro-American Studies, said the FBI paid an informant $30,000 for information leading to the discovery of the victim's graves. This is information not found in the film.

The bodies of Andrew Goodman, James Chaney and Micheal Schwerner were discovered Aug. 4, 1964 in a swamp outside of Philadelphia, Miss. The men were reported missing June 21, and "Mississippi Burning" is a dramatization of the events surrounding the disappearance of the three men.

Also excluded from the movie version is the role of black leaders at the time, Bushnell said.

Besides discussing the film, Bushnell will also address "the new understandings of black leadership in today's society", the civil right's movement and the role of women and students in that movement.

Black History Month is a good time to address the questions "Mississippi Burning" has raised, Jones said.

Jones also said it is important to talk about the movie because it is nominated for many academy awards, including best film and best actor.

Soap star sets sights on Eastern

By SCOTT SILVESTRI
Staff writer

ABC soap opera star John Loprieno, who plays Cord Roberts on "One Life to Live", will be in the University Union walkway Tuesday from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

The day's events will start with an autograph session from 1 to 2:30 p.m. and will be followed with a question-answer session until 3:30 p.m. At the end of the session, a drawing will be held in which the winner will accompany Loprieno to dinner.

Loprieno has time to come visit Eastern after spending the week-end with his family in Chicago.

"I don't mind coming to Eastern since it's so close to Chicago," Loprieno said. He then added that Eastern was where his brother attended college.

Loprieno will be receiving $3,400 for his stop.

Even though his contract is up sometime in June, he hopes to continue playing the part of Cord.

"I'd like to stay with the show, and if I'm offered a contract I'll take it."

Majority of disciplinary cases caused by freshmen

By LORI HIGGINS
Staff writer

Freshmen made up more than half of all cases brought before Eastern's Judicial Board during the fall semester.

Judicial Officer Keith Kohanzo said the fall 1988 Summary of Disciplinary Cases stated freshmen committed the majority of the offenses. "Out of 611 disciplinary referrals made during the fall of 1988, 351 were freshmen," Kohanzo added.

One reason for this statistic is freshmen have to adjust to university regulations, Kohanzo said, adding most of the offenses were minor, such as not having an escort in the residence halls and causing excessive noise.

Kohanzo said 136 complaints came from members of the housing staff.

Because most referrals originate in the halls, 395 hearings were held by the individual residence hall staffs, Kohanzo said, adding the Judicial Board conducted a total of 113 hearings.

The University Police Department sent 183 cases to the board, while 52 cases were sent by faculty and other administrative offices.

Students are entitled to a hearing, which decides if the student broke the rule stated in the Student Conduct Code and what disciplinary sanctions should be imposed, Kohanzo said.

In addition to disciplinary cases, the Judicial Board addressed academic misconduct cases, Kohanzo said, adding that most of the misconduct cases involve cheating or plagiarism.

During the 1988 fall semester, there were 23 cases of academic misconduct.

As a result of academic misconduct, students face stiff penalties. There were 11 students who received a reduced grade on exams or an assignment due to academic misconduct. If the case is considered serious enough the student could receive an F in a course or face suspension from the university.

Kohanzo said if the instructor confronts the student and the student admits to the misconduct, a hearing will usually not be held.

Some referrals resulted in fines. The maximum fine is $50 for an individual case.

During the fall semester fines amounted to $4,862, which $1,569.54 was assessed as restitution for damages.

1989 Charleston Mayoral Primary Endorsements

William Heise

Bill Heise understands the financial crunch education in Illinois is facing and has vowed to rally for funding for higher education should he be elected. The editorial board of The Daily Eastern News continues to support efforts to increase funding for education and now supports Bill Heise for mayor of Charleston.

Heise, who has served 12 years on the zoning board, also favors forming a permanent university/community commission which would work together on issues affecting both the city of Charleston and the university.

Housing code violations and "slum lords" are also on the top of Heise's list should he be elected mayor. Putting an end to unsafe, costly apartments is, without question, supported by this board.

But Heise is not without flaw. Of the four candidates running for the office of mayor, Heise is the only one who supports raising the bar-entry age to 21. This is a policy we simply cannot endorse.

The university population is more than 10,000 and the recreational outlet for most students is the bars. Heise proposes an alternative to the bars — a recreational mall, which would have a bowling alley, an arcade and movies.

We strongly encourage a reassessment of this position. We support enforcement of the legal drinking age, but keeping the bulk of students out of the bars is not the answer.

We believe in what Heise has to say and for the most part his ideas and programs are excellent.

Wayne Lanman

Wayne Lanman has been a member of Charleston's City Council for 24 years. Lanman has the most municipal experience of any of the four mayoral candidates, he's well-respected in the city, he recognizes the importance of Eastern to Charleston's livelihood and he has a lot of common sense.

That's why the editorial board of The Daily Eastern News has chosen to make Lanman one of two endorsements for the Feb. 28 primary election.

Lanman, 64, feels there is a lack of communication between the present mayor and the City Council. As a result, he said, the city has suffered. We agree. Lanman has targeted communication among the mayor and the council members as his top priority as mayor.

In addition, Lanman supports hiring a full-time city administrator to oversee the city's day to day operations, write and secure grants for city improvements, and give professional insight into running the city — a multi-million dollar business.

Lanman, who favors the current bar-entry policy, also favors establishing a commission comprised of Eastern students, city officials and Charleston and University Police to talk about the underage drinking problem in Charleston and to rally the bar-owners so he could hear their concerns.

Simply put, we believe that Wayne Lanman is a viable candidate because he'll listen to what both students and residents have to say.

Violence from word of mouth is tragic

Never has there been such a religious uprising in this century since the release of "The Last Temptation of Christ." When the release of the film was announced, thousands of people voiced their disapproval and denounced the film as blasphemy against Christianity and God.

However, the majority of those people never even saw the movie or read the script. They went by what someone had told someone based on what they heard from someone else. They heard through word of mouth what the movie was about instead of finding out for themselves. Instead, they protested the movie and even denounced the people who were involved in the making of the film.

Unfortunately for those people who wanted the movie out of the theaters, all the protesting brought a flood of publicity for the movie which probably would have died a quiet death in ticket sales. Because of the publicity, even though it was negative publicity, it caused movie-goers to flock to the theaters to see what all the fuss was about. Their curiosity was peaked.

Now once again we must face a similar situation with one horrific twist. A man's life has been threatened.

Author Salman Rushdie is in hiding because Iran's fanatical leader, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, ordered Rushdie's murder after he published his novel "The Satanic Verses." So he now has a severe price on his head and is forced to live in fear.

The fury began with the Moslems, who believe the book is a blasphemy and directed against the Islam religion. However, Rushdie claims his novel is a work of fiction and not intended to insult the Islamic faith.

It never ceases to amaze me that so many people would become so incensed with a cause that they would threaten to kill the author and in one individual case, cited in the Feb. 27 cover story in Newsweek magazine, to kill Rushdie's entire family.

The Islamic people have the right to express their feelings about the book and what it may or may not say. They have the right to follow the Koran just as other religious sects have the right to follow their holy books. But does that mean that just because someone speaks out against a specific religion that he or she should be killed?

Everyone has the right to follow their own beliefs. The problem is when these beliefs begin to threaten other people's lives.

This whole incident has caused three major bookstore chains to remove the book from the shelves because they are afraid of what could happen if they continue to sell the book. Not only did some stores ban the sale of the book, but Rushdie's European publishers have either cancelled or postponed publication.

In addition to the threat on Rushdie's life, his American publisher was forced to temporarily close its New York office because of bomb threats.

When will the violence end?

Since when does having faith in a religion involve taking violent measures against anyone who does not see things the same way as the followers of that religion do?

To make matters even more insane, most of the Moslems who are in a frenzy about the controversial book and making threats on anyone involved with the book have not read it. They are listening to word of mouth.

It is frightening what some people will do in the name of religious faith and there is nothing worse than an angry group of zealots. I refuse to believe that any god would condone the murdering of innocent people no matter what the motivation is.

In the words of the British foreign secretary, "Nobody has the right to incite people to violence."

— Donelle Pardee is the campus editor and a regular columnist for The Daily Eastern News.

Your turn

"The Satanic Verses" should not be banned

Dear editor;

How ironic that an article entitled "'The Satanic Verses' should be banned," appeared in a newspaper in a country with laws expressly forbidding the censorship of the written word. In this article, Mr. Dashti says that "There is the right of free expression in Islam, but it has limits." How can there be true free expression with limits? He also says that "you cannot judge other societies according to your constitution or opinion." But isn't questioning free speech judging our society by his own standards and constitution? In addition to this, he states that "you have to be careful because you are dealing with beliefs, not opinions." Free speech is an American belief, and not an opinion. Mr. Rushdie has every right to publish his fictitious novel, just as the Islamic people have the right to choose whether or not to read it. Also, 'The Last Temptation of Christ' was never banned, nor was Mart Scorsese ever threatened with death. Those who chose to show it or not to show it did it under their own volition, and not by the decision of the American government. In conclusion, Salman Rushdie's words speak for himself (from The New York Review "The Book Burning" by Salman Rushdie, written in January after public book burnings) "after working for five years to give voice and fictional flesh to the immigrant culture of which I am myself a member, I should see my book burned, largely unread, by the people it's about, people who might find pleasure and much recognition in its pages. I tried to write against stereotypes; the zealot protests serve to confirm, in the Western mind, all the worst stereotypes of the Muslim world."

Crickman exposes a well-kept secret

Dear editor;

For God's sake, will someone put a lid on Melody Crickman? Her article about small towns could screw up a good thing we've had going for decades! Try to imagine how it would be if the suburban dike around cities broke and all those Royko-like mentalities spilled into our peace and fresh air! We help pay big tax bucks for social programs and mass transit systems to protect against that! So shut up, girl. Let them enjoy their "advantages" in cities. Try to learn the TRUE meaning of "yokel."

Stress disorders focus of seminar

By LAURIE OLSON
Staff writer

Stress is a physical, chemical or emotional factor that causes bodily or mental tension and may be a factor in disease causation, according to Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary.

Psychology professor William Kirk said the college environment is particularly stressful.

And in his presentation, "Student Stress Mess: What to do about It?," Kirk said he will strive to give students an understanding of the common stressors among college students. "Students will receive ideas of how to develop productive coping strategies," Kirk said.

The seminar will be presented at noon Wednesday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola Room.

The seminar is a part of the Counseling Center's "Life Skills Seminar" series. No registration is necessary and students are welcome to bring their lunches to the presentation, which will last about an hour.

New class to help students adjust to college living

BY CARINA PINKSTON
Staff writer

The Council on Academic Affairs has approved a new orientation course designed for beginning freshmen to be offered for the first time during fall semester.

The elective course is constructed to assist first-time university students in making the transition from high school to college. The class will cover topics including financing an education, developing study skills, living with other people and using university services.

The current orientation programs consist of one-day spring or summer campus visits in which the student takes a math placement test, registers for classes and receives a limited amount of information about Eastern's policies and facilities.

The new course, titled freshman seminar, will not replace the existing programs, but will be a stronger form of orientation.

The class is based on an eight-week schedule to meet twice a week for 75 minutes.

The "information in the course is the kind of information the student needs early," in the semester, said Steve Whitley, director of general education.

Condoms can't be placed yet

By RUDY NOWAK
Staff writer

A Student Senate resolution encouraging placing condom machines in campus buildings will be postponed until a meeting with Housing Director Lou Hencken can be arranged.

Senate member Roger Thomson, the housing committee co-chair, originated the idea for the resolution, which suggests the machines be put in the basements of the residence halls. The resolution will not be put before the senate for another two weeks, Thomson said.

"We are considering putting the machines in the basement restrooms of the residence halls, that way the people who would use them would have access to them and the people who don't want to see them, don't have to," Thomson said.

Thomson said he is also postponing the proposal of the resolution until he receives some added input from senate member Brett Gerber, who spoke to Thomson about working on the resolution.

A meeting between Hencken and the two senate members is being planned to discuss possible implications of putting the machines on campus, Thomson said.

Last semester, Hencken opposed Project Safety's attempt to put the machines on campus. Project Safety is a committee of students concerned about AIDS and other safety deterrents. Hencken's opposition came primarily because of possible vandalism to the machines as well as the encouragement of premarital sex.

John Dietrich, co-chair of Project Safety, said the group supports the resolution, but have given no real input on the resolution.

Thomson said right now the major concern is getting the resolution ready.

Acne medicine endangers student's life

By ANITA MAIELLA
Staff writer

Freshman Erika Smith did what any normal college student would do for acne, she took medicine prescribed by her doctor, but she never realized the side effects could endanger her life.

Smith missed the first two weeks of the spring semester because of a brain disease which she said is the direct result of a prescription drug she was taking.

Smith said she took tetracycline, an antibiotic prescribed by her dermatologist to clear up acne infections. Smith took tetracycline for about six weeks when she started having double vision, severe headaches and a constant feeling of air in her ears, she said.

Smith went to a retina specialist for her double vision where she was diagnosed as having pseudo tumor cerebri, a rare brain disease.

Pseudo tumor cerebri, which affects one out of every 10 women, is a disease found only in women and typically occurs between the ages of 14 and 20.

The disease can be caused by the prolonged use of vitamin A, tetracycline, birth control pills or it can occur spontaneously, Smith said.

Smith's retina specialist said he doesn't know if the disease was caused by the tetracycline or if it occurred spontaneously, but the retina specialist said the tetracycline was definitely a contributing factor, Smith said.

To determine the extent of the disease, Smith underwent a brain scan which the retina specialist recommended. The specialist then sent Smith to a neurologist.

The neurologist found Smith had a 330 fluid pressure, which is the amount of pressure exerted on the brain by fluids, compared to a normal fluid pressure, which is 200. The neurologist lowered her fluid pressure to 180 through a spinal tap, which is the only way to reduce fluid.

The spinal tap, a medical procedure in which a needle is inserted into the spine to relieve the pressure, caused Smith to have shaking, anxiety and depression because of the shock the spinal tap caused to her nervous system, Smith said.

After the spinal tap, Smith was put on diuretics - the last step to help her get rid of fluid. It will take about four months before her nerves will be back to normal, Smith said.

When the dermatologist prescribed tetracycline to Smith, he did not give her any warning about the chances of getting pseudo tumor cerebri. Smith said he only warned her that the tetracycline would make her skin sensitive to the sun.

"If I would have known about the possibility of having pseudo tumor cerebri, I would not have started the acne program," Smith said.

"There are warnings with any kind of medicine that a patient takes," said Dr. Richard Larson, an Eastern Health Service physician.

If a doctor warns a patient about every risk, nobody would want to take the medicine, Larson said.

Larson said, "The risk of getting pseudo tumor cerebri is so remote that you figure the need is granted over the risk."

"Before a doctor prescribes a drug to a patient he should know the effects it can cause," Smith said. "In addition he should inform the patient and let the patient decide whether or not they want to take the drug."

Senator to work with CAA on Undergrad study

By KELLY SEIFERT
Staff writer

In addition to his duties as a Student Senate member, sophomore Brian Moushon recently became a committee member of the Council on Academic Affairs.

CAA, a committee which makes decisions concerning academic programs, is made up of nine elected faculty members who hold a three-year term, and three students who hold a semester term with an option to apply for a full year.

Student recommendations to the CAA are made by Andrea Pyle, executive vice-president of Student Government, whereas faculty members are elected by Faculty Senate, Moushon said. After his recommendation, he was interviewed by the legislative leadership committee, a committee comprised of the chairs of the senate committees. His appointment was then approved by the senate.

Moushon is also the co-chair of the academic affairs committee, which addresses academic concerns and issues. He said he attributes his ability and experience for CAA to his position on the academic affairs committee.

Recently, the council has been reviewing the Study of Undergraduate Education.

"It has been a goal of the Student Senate to work on the CAA especially with the Study of Undergraduate Education," Moushon said.

Working on CAA will give Moushon insight into what is going on academically, which he can take back for the senate's benefit, he said.

Moushon said he is looking forward to working with the Study of Undergraduate Education because he cares about the future of Eastern.

"The main goal of the study is to put out a better student," Moushon said. He said he is willing to put all his efforts into achieving better students.

Students must become involved with the changes and decisions being made or else the students' needs will not be met or even heard.

The library vending machines is a prime example of an instance where the students found out about an issue and spoke up before a decision was made, Moushon said.

versus fourth-place Indiana State Friday)," Hilke said. "Indiana State is in the driver's seat and really has our reins in their hands."

Saturday did mark the return of Eastern guard Barb Perkes, who came back from stress fractures in her lower legs to play 26 minutes against the Salukis.

Averaging 17.7 points per game before the injury, Perkes scored eight to go with team highs in steals (4) and assists (5).

"I need to be in a little better shape," Perkes said. "I felt out of sync and like a third wheel sometimes."

Hilke said: "She (Perkes) is a gutsy competitor. It was not a slow-paced game for her."

After trailing by as much as 14 points in the second half, Eastern fought its way back with a full-court press that helped cause 19 Saluki turnovers in the game.

"Our kids worked hard on the press," Hilke said. "I'm proud we were in a position to win it at the end."

Junior center Laura Mull led the Lady Panthers with 17 points and nine rebounds Saturday.

"Through the course of the game and to the end, we thought we had them," Mull said. "This is a game we should have won."

Western upsets UWGB

Western Illinois stunned Wisconsin-Green Bay 64-61 in Macomb Saturday, dropping the Phoenix a half-game below Eastern in the Association of Mid-Continent Universities standings.

As a result, when Eastern hosts Wisconsin-Green Bay in the final game of the regular season Saturday, an Eastern win would ensure a third-place seed in the March 6-8 AMCU tournament in Springfield, Mo.

Western (3-7) overcame a six-point halftime deficit, 34-28, to upset the Phoenix (5-5).

The Leathernecks were paced by Michael Hayes, who had 15

Eastern 7th in Gateway meet

Southern captures 3rd straight league title

By PHIL CHAPARRO
Staff writer

Eastern's women's track team ended their 1989 indoor season on a sour note, and finished seventh in the Gateway Conference Indoor Championships Sunday at Lantz Fieldhouse.

Southern Illinois captured its third consecutive GCAC indoor championship, winning eight of the 17 events and scoring 132 total points.

"We knew it was coming," Southern Illinois coach Don DeNoon said of the victory. "We had the right people, and they came through and did the job for us."

"It is a good feeling, and I'm happy"

Drake University placed second with 90; Wichita State finished third at 75; Western Illinois tied Illinois State for fourth at 61; Indiana State placed sixth with 51.

The Lady Panthers, picked to finish sixth in a coaches poll on Wednesday, finished seventh with 32 points, followed by Northern Iowa with 27, Southwest Missouri State at 25 and Bradley with 2.

Even with the seventh-place finish, Eastern came out of the Gateway meet with some solid performances, two All-Gateway athletes and GCAC champion in the pentathlon.

Tina Dawson set a new conference and school record in the 800-meter dash portion of the pentathlon, shattering the Gateway mark by seven seconds at a time of 2:32.11.

Dawson went on to win the event, outpointing Illinois State's Missey Zuranski with 3,555 points.

"I tried to concentrate on the pentathlon event," Dawson said. "I kind of got distracted with the triple jump, the open long jump and the open high jump."

"I could have done better, but I'm really happy with what I did."

Lorry Plutz, the defending Gateway champion in the 200-and 400-meter dashes, could only muster a seventh-place finish in the 200-meter at 25.61.

Plutz bounced back in the 400-meter dash and a bagged a third-place finish at a clip of 58.13

"I haven't really been running as a good as I liked to all year," Plutz said. "I ran my best time of the season in the 400, and I got all-conference in the event."

Esta Saverson placed fourth in the long jump, leaping 18-5; Tracy Hoffman finished fifth in the 800-meter dash at 2:24.06; Laurie Mizener took sixth in the 5000-meter runh at a clip of 18:21.4; and Stefanie Stump bagged a 12th place finish in the mile run.

"I would have liked to finished higher," Eastern coach John Craft said. "We didn't, though, and that's the way it goes."

"All in all it was an outstanding meet; the conference is getting tougher and we were fortunate to finish seventh, but I was pleased with the women's performances."

AMCU title

"Last year I went to Northern Iowa, and I saw three UNI vaulters standing to get their award," Hamilton said. "It was just nice to see two Eastern vaulters standing this year instead."

Bob Holzer stood with Hamilton, taking third in the event with a 15-1 leap.

In the 55-meter high hurdles, Eastern's Don Glover won with a 7.58 time over AMCU record-holder Arnold Johnson. Eastern's Robert Flot took third at 7.67.

"That's a big upset there," Moore said. "Don Glover certainly rates a lot of praise."

In the 400-meter dash, where Dan Steele took second with a 48.49 time, Northern Iowa's Jim Turner set a new AMCU mark, as well as a new Lantz Fieldhouse record with a 48.09 time, and in the 600-meter dash, where Glover was second with a 1:11.90 time and Freddie Neal was fifth with a 1:14.03 time, UNI's Jeff Burris set a new Lantz Fieldhouse record with a run of 1:10.42.

Eastern also captured the AMCU championship in the two-mile relay, where Glover, Steele, Isaacs (wearing proper attire) and Mike Young finished with a 3:21.08 time.

Other Eastern performances included Tim Gately's 6-7 jump, good for fifth in the high jump and 23-8 3/4 leap for second in the long jump, Darrin Steele's 51.17 in the 400-meter dash, which placed him fourth and Eric Baron's 4:21.61 in the mile run, which gained him sixth place.

Eastern guard Jay Taylor slams in two of his 18 points in the Panthers' 89-83 win Saturday over Valparaiso.

On a roll

Busy Panthers beat Valpo 89-83 for 3rd straight win

By JAMES BETZOLD
Sports editor

Playing three games in five days might worry some teams. But for the Panthers it might be just what they needed.

Eastern (14-14, 6-5 in the Association of Mid-Continent Universities) beat Valparaiso (8-17, 3-8 in the AMCU) 89-83 Saturday at Lantz Gym to demonstrate that playing all those games doesn't hurt a bit.

"I kind of enjoy it," said Eastern guard Ron Tate, who scored a season-high 17 points. "Practice makes you better, but practice can get redundant. When you play every other day, it gets you going."

And it has shown — both individually and as a team.

The Panthers have now won three straight games and had six players in double figures Saturday night.

"This was probably our best team offensive effort," Eastern coach Rick Samuels said. "Tate and Hamilton came off the bench and played well for us. They gave us a big lift."

"Fowler had perhaps his best game of the season. (And) that may have been Dave (Vance's) best game of the year."

The balance took the heavy burden off guard Jay Taylor. Nonetheless, Taylor was still co-leader in scoring with Fowler. They had 18 apiece.

"I'll take that kind of night all the time," Samuels said. "We've got to hope that can continue."

Western stuns Green Bay, page 10

But Tate's performance turned out to be the key. In the first half, he sparked a 14-5 run near the end of the first half by hitting three three-point shots to put Eastern ahead 41-29.

And in the second half Tate stopped a Valparaiso rally almost single-handedly.

Eastern went scoreless for more than two minutes around the five-minute mark, and the Crusaders moved to within 78-72 at 4:53 on a basket by Jim Ford, who led all scorers with 32 points.

But Tate hit three consecutive 18-footers to preserve the lead.

"I've really been shooting a little better lately," Tate said. "I've been more patient, whereas at the beginning of the season I was trying to force it."

Samuels says Tate's surge relates to his acceptance of a role as an outside shooter off the bench.

"The last couple of weeks, he (Tate) has been a more patient player," Samuels said. "He's in a much better rhythm when he shoots the ball."

The win moves Eastern up in two categories — to a .500 record and to third place in the AMCU after Wisconsin-Green Bay lost to Western Illinois.

"It feels good to be .500," Tate said. "It seems like it's been a long uphill struggle."

To keep that .500 record,

Eastern guard Jay Taylor broke the Eastern single-season scoring record of 653 points with his first hoop Saturday. John Millholland had 653 in 1956-57. He has scored more than 30 points 10 times this season.

Eastern guard Gerald Jones leads the Association of Mid-Continent Universities in three-point shooting accuracy at 50.6 percent. That's also 13th-best in the nation.

though, the Panthers will have to beat Cleveland State. The Vikings invade Lantz Gym at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The game won't count in AMCU standings because CSU is under NCAA sanctions and ineligible for the conference title. But that doesn't mean the game doesn't have special significance for Eastern.

"(Monday's game) doesn't count in the standings," Tate said. "But we really want that Cleveland State game so we can go in (to the conference tournament March 6-8) two games over .500."

Eastern grabs AMCU title

Tracksters surprise Northern Iowa

By AL LAGATTOLLA
Staff writer

Eastern's track team swept the top three spots in a pair of field events Friday night and Saturday afternoon and won the Association of Mid-Continent Universities indoor track title at Lantz Fieldhouse.

The Panthers scored 110 points to 89.5 for second-place Northern Iowa, the favorites coming into the meet and winner of four of the first five AMCU meets.

In addition, Eastern coach Neil Moore won his third Coach of the Year honor.

Western Illinois was third with 59 points, Southwest Missouri finished fourth with 21.5 points and Cleveland State finished last with a score of six.

A crucial point came at the end of Friday's competition when UNI led Eastern by one-half of a point. Sprinter Ian Isaacs, who had competed in the trials of the 220- and 55-meter dash, and would have made both fields, was declared ineligible because of a uniform violation that Northern Iowa coach Chris Bucknam caught. The rule states that an athlete cannot wear advertising that takes up more than one square inch.

"It is my fault for not catching that," Moore said. "He left it (his tights) on because it was cold in the fieldhouse."

"It could have cost us the meet," Eastern assistant coach Tom Akers said. "But in fact, it may have won us the meet."

Instead of falling apart, the Panthers came together, especially in the triple jump and shot put, where Eastern surprised all by capturing the top three spots in both events.

"We gained the momentum and we never stopped," Moore said. "They (UNI) felt a little helpless. They felt as if they rattled a hornet's nest."

In the shot put, Brad Alewelt took first with a toss of 48-4 1/2, Fred Robinson was second with a 48-foot throw and Brent Miller took third with a 47-8 1/2 launch. In the triple jump, Jared Thompson is the AMCU champion with a leap of 47-10 1/2, Greg Heggs was second with a 46 2 3/4 jump and Dennis Stuhler was third with a 45-1 3/4 jump.

"We took 1-2-3 in the shot; we were not supposed to do that," Akers said. "We did not figure to go 1-2-3 in the triple jump."

"I think that that was a lot of it," said Bucknam of the triple jump and shot put's impact on the meet. "They earned it, too."

Heggs was a particular surprise in the triple jump.

"I have not triple-jumped for five years," Heggs said. "It just proves that if you believe enough that you can do anything, you can do it."

Heggs was not through yet, though, as his 6.48 time was good for third in the 55-meter dash and his 22.01 time in the 200-meter dash won him another AMCU championship and broke his own AMCU record, as well as setting a Lantz Fieldhouse record.

"I feel very, very excited," Heggs said. "If you believe in yourself, regardless of what people say you cannot do, they can only deny you for so long."

Another AMCU mark fell in the pole vault, where Eastern's Mark Hamilton cleared 16-1 1/4.

Lady Panthers fall to Southern 67-61

By DAVID LINDQUIST
Associate sports editor

Southern Illinois handed Eastern's women's basketball team its first Gateway Conference home loss of the season Saturday in a 67-61 defeat that darkens the Lady Panthers' post-season conference tournament hopes.

Even though the Salukis' top two inside players had each fouled out with more than 5:30 left, Southern (13-3 in the Gateway) was able to stave off a late comeback bid by Eastern (9-6).

"It was definitely survival at the end," Southern coach Cindy Scott said. "If the game goes five more minutes, we probably don't win. You hope your team can hold together in that situation, and we did."

Eastern could come no closer than 61-58 with 1:22 left.

When center Cathy Kampwerth (14 points, seven rebounds) was disqualified with 6:27 remaining and forward

Amy Rakers was whistled for her fifth foul less than a minute later, it appeared the door was open for Eastern to close the 53-48 gap.

"They have to feel great that we didn't take control of the ballgame," Eastern coach Barbara Hilke said.

Instead it was Saluki guard Tonda Seals who took charge in the contest, scoring seven points after Kampwerth and Rakers exited.

"We needed this win for pride more so than for standings," said Seals, who hit nine of 11 shots from the field for a game-high 23 points.

The Lady Panthers, however, fall to fifth place in the Gateway and are in danger of not making the four-team league tourney that determines which school represents the conference in the NCAA tournament.

"To control our destiny, we have to win our last two (home games against league-leader Illinois State Wednesday and

WORKSHOPS AND SPECIAL COURSES

COURSE TITLES FOR WORKSHOPS AND SPECIAL COURSES
(See Course Listings for Times, Dates, Instructors, etc.)

New and former students who plan to register for short term credit workshops and/or special courses in Summer School must apply for admission or readmission and submit appropriate academic credentials, if required, at least ten (10) days prior to registering for the short term workshop or special course. Students enrolled in courses on campus and off campus at Eastern spring semester 1989 need not reapply for readmission. Students may register for short term courses on the central registration dates -- May 5 and 15 for the intersession and June 12 for the eight- and five-week sessions. Students may also register on the first day of the workshop prior to the time the course begins (but no later than 3:30 p.m.) provided that the students have permits to register. Students may also request mail-in registration for workshops only. Students who are not seeking a degree at Eastern Illinois University and are not former Eastern students may apply for admission as a Guest Student. A Guest Student may enroll without submitting official transcripts. For information on admission to Summer School, please write to Charles Switzer, Director of Summer School, 105 Old Main, or call (217) 581-2023.
